- (1) There is probable cause to believe the defendant committed the conspiracy drug offense. The maximum penalty is in excess of ten years. There is therefore a rebuttable presumption against the defendant's release based upon both dangerousness and flight risk, under Title 18 U.S.C. § 3142(e).
- (2) Nothing in this record satisfactorily rebuts the presumption against release for several reasons:
  - (a) The defendant presents a risk of nonappearance due to the following: He is a citizen and national of Mexico; his background and ties to the Western District of Washington are unknown/unverified; he is associated with two alias names and two dates of birth; and the Bureau of Immigration and Customs Enforcement has filed a detainer;
  - (b) The defendant presents a risk of danger due to his criminal history and the nature of the instant offense; and
  - (c) The defendant stipulates to detention.
- (3) Based upon the foregoing information which is consistent with the recommendation of U.S. Pre-trial Services, it appears that there is no condition or combination of conditions that would reasonably assure future Court appearances and/or the safety of other persons or the community.

It is therefore ORDERED:

(l) The defendant shall be detained pending trial and committed to the
